These service stations are getting to be like drug stores.

Once upon a time they served the public with oil and gasoline.

Then tires and batteries were added to the line. Then came auto parts, auto wash racks, greasing jobs and what have you.

Now the Standard Oil has announced that through a hook-up with the I. T. T. they will take care of telegrams.

This is a handy arrangement to say the least and continues the Standard Oil's policy of serving the public.

It is interesting to note the number of men who have faithfully served the Richmond citizens on the fire and police departments.

Yesterday the RECORD-HERALD printed a story telling of the number of veterans on the fire department. One of the members of the department has served 20 years.

Today this paper carries in an adjoining column a story about the veterans of the Police department.

Richmond is indeed fortunate that it has so many men who stand ready to protect it at any time.

We have with us one of the finest fire departments in the state and one of the best police departments.

Fire Chief W. P. Cooper has established a national reputation for the Richmond fire department.

Time after time the city has won the low fire loss cups. This was only made possible through the constant work of Chief Cooper and his men.

California knows the Richmond police department and Chief Cox. In any community of the state, peace officers are loud in their praise of the Richmond department.

When one considers the number of men Chief Cox has in his department, it is indeed remarkable the amount of work his force accomplishes.

Few criminals have ever "got away" with their crimes in Richmond. Since Chief Cox has been in office every major crime committed within this city has been cleared up in a short time and the offending parties have been placed under arrest.

The high state of efficiency maintained by the local department can be seen in the newspapers.

No major crime has been committed within this city for some time.

No better record could be asked for by any department.

Richmond Gets School Funds

MARTINEZ, Sept. 12.—According to word received here today by County Superintendent of Schools W. H. Hanlon, a total of $298,630 is appropriated to the schools of Contra Costa county.

Of this amount, $267,540 will be allotted to the grammar schools of the county and $31,090 to the high schools.

Richmond's allotment is $85,170, of which $6070 goes to Richmond Union high school, and $79,100 to be divided between the grammar schools.

12 Homes Razed By North Carolina Gale

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Sept. 12.—UP—Twelve houses were destroyed and the Coast Guard station and other buildings damaged when a hurricane, accompanied by a 120 mile wind struck Cape Lookout on the North Carolina coast this afternoon, according to radio reports received here tonight.

Many homeless persons were sheltered at the Coast Guard station at the cape, it was said.

Probe In Double Killing Is Ended

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—UP—Authorities tonight concluded their investigation into the presumed murder of LaVern Hall, daughter of Mrs. Harriet Leigh of Washington, Kan., and suicide of Russell Cole, whose brother is believed to be B. W. Cole of Denver.

They said they were convinced that Cole had shot Miss Hall when he thought she was going to leave him, and then fired a bullet thru his own head.

The young man and his companion each used four different names and officers had difficulty in establishing their true identities. They had registered at the apartment house where their bodies were found as Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cast'e.

It was learned that Miss Hall had recently told a friend that her admiration for Cole had never lessened but she had developed a dislike for his jealousy which interfered with her freedom.

In the couple's room was found a letter from the girl's mother urging her to break away from Cole. Cole's brother notified local authorities he was leaving for San Francisco immediately to care for the body and Miss Hall's mother asked the coroner's office if any way might be devised for her daughter's body to be sent east.

LOCATION OF TERMINAL SOON

With officials refusing to talk, the report that contracts are to be let for the bulkheading of the western waterfront from Richmond to Point Isabel is steeped in mystery.

Yesterday well authorized reports were made that these contracts are to be let within the next 56 hours.

With this report the invasion of the bay region by the Hill lines, and the establishment in Richmond of the Great Northern, Western Pacific terminal has gained added impetus.

Lands Bought
For some time lands on the waterfront have been acquired by option and purchase. It is understood that the Berkeley waterfront company, headed by Donald M. Gregory, of the law firm of Chickering and Gregory of San Francisco is behind this move.

It was reported that the Berkeley company has awarded a contract for the bulkheading of its lands to the Daniels Construction company.

Gregory, however, refused to answer any questions in regards to the move, declaring, "your guess is as good as mine."

Daniels Mum
Daniels declared that the information would have to be obtained from some other source, as he had been "warned not to talk."

It was stated by railroad men in Oakland and San Francisco yesterday that if the bulkheading contracts haven't been signed as yet, they will be in a few days and work will be started on the terminal immediately.

It is known that the Santa Fe railroad, an ally of the Hill line, has been buying property in Richmond and along the waterfront in other neighboring communities.

Use Santa Fe Rails
And when the Great Northern enters the bay region, their easiest and most inexpensive route would be to use the Santa Fe tracks from Bay Point to Richmond.

The connecting link that is to book up the Great Northern and the Western Pacific between Keddie and Klamath Falls is now being built.

Railroad authorities declare that every activity of the allied lines points to the construction of the terminal in Richmond.

Doctor Attacked On Mercy Mission

Dr. H. S. Kergan Oakland physician and surgeon, is today recovering from a severe beating, administered by three unidentified men and a girl while he was en route to the home of a patient, Thursday night.

The assault occurred in front of a residence at 3244 Helen street, Oakland, where the physician had been summoned from his office in the Dalziel building, after a chase of more than a score of blocks.

The injured physician is the brother of Dr. James F. Kergan, prominent Oakland specialist, who was well known in Richmond having treated a number of patients here.

According to Dr. Kergan's report, the three men charged and kicked him while the girl sat at the wheel of her car, calmly smoking a cigarette.

The doctor, who believes robbery was the motive of the attack, saved a wallet containing a large sum of money when nearby residents heard his cries and rushed into the street as the assailants fled.

Dr. J. F. Kergan was also at a loss to explain the attack, declaring he knew of no reason why his brother should have been assaulted.

The beaten physician told authorities he left his office after receiving a call from the Helen street residence, and had gone only a few blocks when he noticed a machine trailing him.

At San Pablo avenue and Twentieth street, the other machine attempted to force Dr. Kergan to halt, but failed. A race began, and when the physician swung into Helen street, he believed he had lost his pursuers.

As he came to a halt however, the other machine drew alongside and the fight followed.

Searching parties, using flashlights and lanterns, immediately began looking for possible casualties. They found pieces of metal, believed to be remnants of an automobile.

No damage was done in the city proper, although window panes were shattered within a four mile radius of the explosion.

J. F. O'Flaherty, official of the company, said he believed the explosion had been set off by some one attempting to steal supplies from the storehouse.

NEW RATE AT 21 CENTS GALLON

Richmond motorists after Monday will pay 21 cents a gallon for their gasoline, instead of the usual 20 cents.

Announcement of an increase in price was made yesterday by the Standard Oil company of California.

Effective Monday all Standard Oil service stations will post a one cent raise in price for all gasoline, it was stated.

At the same time the company announced reductions of from eight to 12 cents a barrel for prices it would pay producers for crude oil. This will also be effective on Monday.

Motorists who enjoy themselves last spring by filling their tank with ten cent gasoline during the "price war" will now pay the bill, for the Standard Oil announced that the increase was made necessary by the disruption of the conservation schedule brought about by the same gas war.

It is expected that all other major companies will follow the Standard's price increase.

Conditions Bad
In its statement the Standard Oil emphasized the fact that the increase was brought about through the suggestion of H. H. MacMillan, president of the California Oil and Gas association who wrote a letter to K. R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard, suggesting the raise.

In his letter MacMillan stated financial conditions of independent gas companies were precarious and that there were three courses open . . . to increase the cost of raw materials, cut wages in the producing industry or get a higher retail price.

The Standard agreed with MacMillan's analysis of the situation, saying that a wage decrease would only be partial relief and would only be temporary.

Statement Made
It was stated that the wholesale price of gasoline would be raised from 16 to 17 cents, permitting the retailers the 4-cent

HIGH GRADERS DEFEATED BY MACKMEN

Richmond Union high school suffered its first defeat of the 1930 grid season yesterday afternoon when the McClymonds high school warriors held Leslie Scarsella, Richmond halfback, for a safety in the last minute of play.

The prospect of a scoreless tie was imminent when both the McClymonds and Richmond athletes started a punting spree in the five minutes of the spectacular contest. Then the McClymonds' booter, Franklin, staved the goal that assured victory for McClymonds high school. Franklin kicked from his own 48 yard line. The pigskin hurtled over the heads of the Richmond players, and was almost stopped by Leslie Scarsella. However, it bounced away from the local halfback, and rolled into the locals' end zone. Scarsella ran back, attempted to bring the ball back into the field, but was stopped by a solid mass of McClymonds athletes.

Although on the small end of the final score Richmond Union high schoolers played their best football of the season yesterday afternoon, and held the greater part of the play in McClymonds' territory during the fierce battle, Richmond showed a greater versatility of attack yesterday than it showed in its two preceding games. The punting of both Ed Masek of Richmond and Franklin of McClymonds was an outstanding feature of the clash.

John Rosano staged his first real backfield performance of the 1930 season for Richmond yesterday. During the first two contests, he saw little action because of an injured leg, but in yesterday's game, he made his presence known on the Richmond gridiron by his smashing plunges through the center of the McClymonds line.

Ed Masek, Richmond halfback, as usual continued to find holes in the opposing line to gain yardage. Scarsella cooperated well with Masek in the backfield. Woodrow Snodgrass, plucky little halfback for Richmond, piled up an imposing yardage for the local squad. He made one of the most spectacular runs of the game in the third quarter, when he went from the McClymonds 20 yard line to its five yard line on an end run. He was badly hurt when finally tackled at the conclusion of the play. Stoddard displayed speed in the quarterback position for Richmond yesterday. Merle Baskett, who saw action as quarterback in the final quarter, continued to add to his rapidly growing reputation for line bucking and interference.

The local line showed a marked improvement yesterday over its showing in the games with Oakland Technical and University High schools. The local ends, Julliana and Drexel, functioned to perfection against McClymonds, Ed Westman, Louis Ball and Dave Lilly, tackles succeeded in breaking up the McClymonds offensive many times during the fray. Benny Hofer and Emeric Baxter were imposing bulwarks in the local defense, while Brignone and Clarence Hall alternated with success at the pivotal position. Perry, tackle and Gerletti, end, saw action for Richmond during the latter part of the final quarter.

The McClymonds backfield consisted of P. Nelson, fullback; Traveres and White, halfbacks; and Franklin, quarterback. The visiting line included: Verdigo, Lawlor, ends; Petersen, Mosley, tackles; Donnelly, Barnes, guards; and Mestrovich, center.

The first quarter started with McClymonds kicking off to the locals 30 yard line. Richmond made yardage, and placed the ball on its own 40 yard line. Richmond's attack was then stopped, and Rosano kicked. The McClymonds' quarterback, Franklin, fumbled and recovered the ball on his own seven yard line. A pass from Franklin was intercepted on his 20 yard line by Snodgrass. Rosano then smashed through to McClymonds 10 yard line. Again Richmond was stopped by the McClymonds' defense, and the visiting team recovered the ball.

Franklin then made an end run to his own 25 yard line. The McClymonds backfield fumbled the pigskin, and Ball recovered it on McClymonds 32 yard line. The team from Oakland was penalized 15 yards for side line coaching, and lost the ball on its 20 yard line. A pass from Rosano was then intercepted on the 17 yard line. McClymonds' booter punted poorly, the ball was fumbled, and was finally recovered by a McClymonds man when the quarter ended.

Following another punt by McClymonds, Richmond started a drive into its opponents' territory that finally ended on the 42 yard line. Then followed a period of punting back and forth on the field. The McClymonds' squad smashed through to Richmond's 30 yard line. Fenton then made a beautiful pass to a McClymonds' linesman, but the ball bounced out of the receivers' arms, thereby smashing the chance of the Oaklanders for a touchdown at that period.

McClymonds punted to Richmond's 13 yard line, and Masek punted back to his own 32 yard line. An end run by the Oakland boys brought the play to Richmond's 20 yard line, where the half ended.

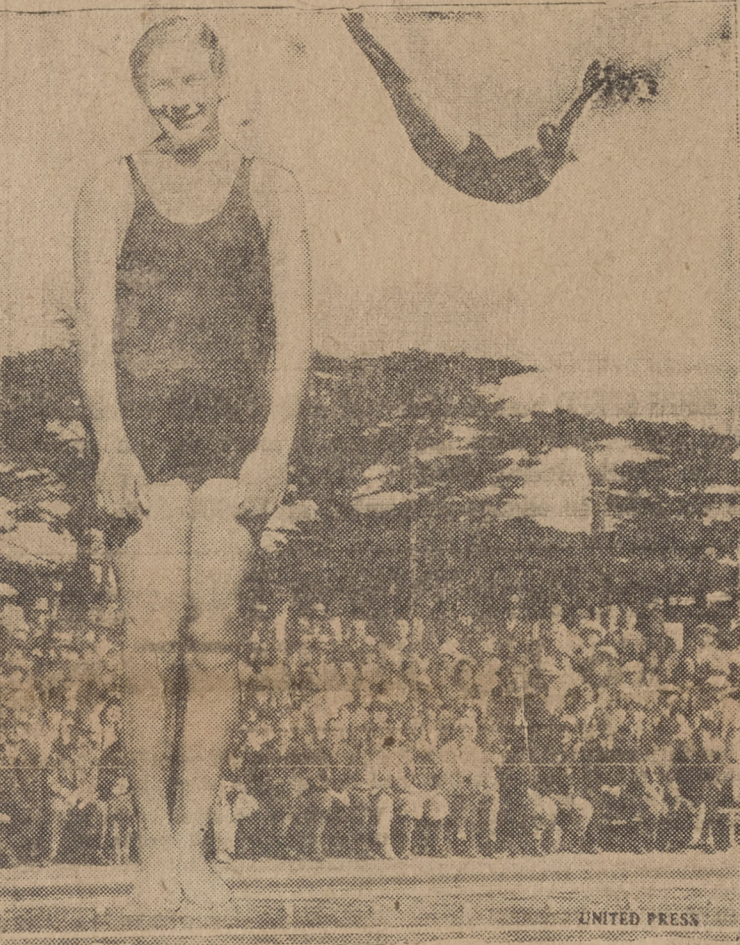

The second half opened with Richmond punting over the goal. After Richmond lost the ball on failure to gain yardage, McClymonds fumbled on its own 23 yard line. Snodgrass then made a fine end run to the five yard line. A

Gene Sarazen Tommy Armour In Golf Final

FLUSHING, N. Y., Sept. 12.—UP—Gene Sarazen of Flushing and Tommy Armour of Detroit today won their way into the final round of the national P. G. A. championship.

Sarazen won his semi-final over Charles Lacey of Pine Valley, N. J., 1 up.

Play was over 36 holes. Tomorrow's final will be of same length. Two up at the turn of the morning round, Sarazen lost the advantage to be square at intermission. Apar five on the 23rd and a birdie three on the 24th put Gene two up and steered the match his way. He increased his lead to four up on the 29th, lost the 3th to Kirkwood's birdie two and won the 31st and 32nd in par figures to close out the match.

Armour and Lacey had a ding-dong battle with Armour leading virtually all the way. Lacey had a one-hole advantage at the 13th of the morning round, but Armour squared it at the next green. Armour was two up at intermission and held a lead throughout the afternoon.

Following the scoring of the winning two points, Richmond kicked off to its own 35 yard line. McClymonds then broke through to the locals' 20 yard mark, where the battle came to an end.

MANY KICKERS ON BEAR GRID TEAM

BERKELEY, Sept. 12.—Lack of kickers cannot be listed among the shortcomings of the University of California football team this season, for there will be plenty of men with educated toes on the roster when Coach C. M. "Nibs" Price calls out his varsity next Monday.

The most consistent kicker in competition is "Moose" Garrity, the hefty fullback who will be shifted to halfback this season. The "Moose" won the Roos punting trophy last spring with an average boot of 54 yards for three attempts. His longest kick of the three was 58 yards. Garrity was also winner in the annual contest in 1929 when his average was 52 yards one foot.

Joe Hickingbotham who, like Garrity, is being shifted from fullback to halfback, showed well in the competition and should find his kicking abilities an asset this season. Hickingbotham, though fourth in the competition, got off a kick of 57 yards and averaged 67 yards in his three tries.

Henry Schaldach, 148-pound halfback and shot-putter, was only one behind Garrity in his average last spring. Schaldach is looked upon as being a very likely candidate for a regular berth in the varsity "rebuilt" backfield.

George Watkins, halfback, holds record average for the Roos punting which he won in the spring of 1928. Watkins' longest kick traveled 67 yards and his average for the efforts was 62 yards.

Alphon Seely, another halfback, all kickers other than Watkins, had an average of 50 yards. Seely, the makings of a triple-threat, for he is an accurate passer and plenty of speed for ball carrying. Roscoe Peart, still another back, had an average of better than 48 yards in 1929, but did not compete last spring.

While Ben Lom won the Muller punting trophy last spring, Seldon Giorgio, sophomore tackle candidate, registered the longest pass: 54 yards. Jack DeBenedetti, end, the winner in 1929 in this test, an average of nearly 54 yards.

Bill Tilden Defeated By Young Doeg

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The 10,000 fans who sat in stadium of the Westside Tennis today saw the almost incredible happen. They saw big Bill Tilden, the master, eliminated in semi-final round of the men's national singles championship.

They saw him go down fighting manly to happy Johnny Doeg, Santa Monica Cal., who was only years old when big Bill first came champion. True, Tilden was not at his best. He limped from an injury to his knee that has bothered him for several weeks. And he did so gloriously. Doeg, not yet 22, will meet Frank Shields of New York in the final round tomorrow. Shields, approaching his 20th birthday, like Doeg, supplied somewhat of an upset today when he gained an unexpectedly easy victory over Tilden. B. Wood, his fellow townsman, the closeness of play in the Tilden-Doeg match can be shown by the scores: 10-3, 6-3, 12-10. The last set especially, being as it did to 22 games, he was there was a single break in Doeg's play, was one of the hardest fought battles in the history of the championship.

Tilden, 38, and past his tennis prime, was still the craftsman of courts who knew every stroke knew how to save his game and leg if it were possible. But on the other side of the net was a youngster who suddenly found himself possessing a service that was simply beyond the veteran.

Doeg had never beaten Tilden before—and for that matter never since he became a champion has Tilden lost in the championship to an American opponent. But it was Doeg's day and he made the most of it.

Tilden played with as little effort as possible. He didn't try for the hard ones and he made no effort to break up his stocky rival's service whenever Doeg took a 30-love or 40-love lead.

He was tiring. The match was so sensational—both in result and play—that the earlier Shields-Wood encounter paled in comparison. Shields won 5-2, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, and he looked the better man even when he was losing the third set.

CUBS CONTINUE TO HOLD LEAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—UP—The breathless National league pennant race remained unchanged after today's battles which saw the Chicago Cubs hold their scant half game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Robins, by breaking their four game losing streak with a smashing 17 to 4 victory over the Phillies.

The Cardinals continued their pursuit of the league leaders by winning their third straight game from the New York Giants, 5 to 2. It was the Cardinals' tenth victory in their last 11 games, their one defeat coming in the first game of the New York series.

The Robins stretched their winning spurt to eight straight games by annexing a 7 to 3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds who handed Brooklyn five consecutive defeats on the last western trip.

As a result of today's games the Cubs are three percentage points ahead of the Cardinals who have a one point advantage over the Robins. Four games behind the leaders the Giants are now definitely out of the race, although their last mathematical chance has not been removed.

Hack Wilson was the hero of the Cubs victory, driving in six of his team's runs and hitting his 49th home run of the season. Gabby Hartnett, Cubs' catcher, hit his 33rd homer of the season, and Chuck Klein of the Phillies made his 53rd double of the year setting a new National league record. Homers also played a part in the Robins' victory at Ebbetts Field. Al Lopez, Robins' catcher, hit a homer with two men on base and Glenn Wright hit one with the bases empty.

Crew Men Will Be Instructed With Movies

BERKELEY, Sept. 12.—Lectures and weekly examinations on the art of pulling an oar in a racing shell are to be added to the "curriculum" of crewmen at the University of California. Coach Carroll "Ky" Eblight has decreed that his oarsmen not only will have to maintain high scholastic averages in their university work, but they will have to have a thorough knowledge of the theory of his system of rowing before they can be in his varsity shells.

"Professor" Eblight has devised a "course of study" in which the oarsmen will be issued lessons each Monday for study during the week. An examination of the "true and false" type will be given each Friday. From the results secured in this way, Eblight will know what instruction is most needed by the oarsmen.

These lectures and readings will be supplemented by motion pictures of the California crew and other leading college crews of the United States which the Bear coach secured while he was in the east for the Poughkeepsie regatta in June.

Bachelors Will Meet Married Men On Diamond

Girls Break Loan Racket

PEIPING—Two thousand "sing-song" girls in Peiping are happy because the police have rounded up a score of money-lenders charged with extortion.

The Chinese press says that many of these money-lenders starting with a few dollars, have amassed fortunes of $100,000 or more by lending money to the girls at unlawful rates. The practice has continued for years.

Recently, say the newspapers, the money-lenders have become constantly more unreasonable, charging in some cases $1.50 daily interest on a $30 loan. Their greed proved their undoing.

One of the girls had a high official as a friend. He ordered an investigation, which has continued for some weeks. The city detectives gathered evidence against the entire group, and when they had enough made wholesale arrests.

The police found that about 2000 girls had signed notes which made them virtually slaves to the money-lenders and had to pay out most of their earnings in interest on small loans. In many cases a lifetime's work would not suffice to pay off the loan.

When city officials finally moved they acted drastically. All of the loan contracts were destroyed, and money-lenders were either jailed or heavily fined.

The girls have been warned not to contract any further loans of the kind. They now start with a clean slate and know that the police will protect them in the future.

Actor Spurns Ex-Kaiserin

BERLIN.—UP—Princess Hermina, wife of the ex-kaiser, still enjoys the freedom of Republican Germany, and now and then makes pleasure trips to various resorts, visiting friends from the old monarchistic regime.

In the various Bavarian spas, she holds a small court and accepts the title of "Kaiserin" from her attendants as though no change had taken place. She meets few Republicans.

The Princess therefore, received a slight surprise recently when she attended a production of Wedekind's "Bismark" in Berlin, in which Paul Wegener played the leading role. Wegener's performance pleased the Princess greatly and she sent word back stage between acts that she would like to come back and congratulate him in person. The "courier" returned with Wegener's brief refusal, saying that he never received ladies in his dressing room during the performance, and "as a confirmed Republican," he asked to be excused from receiving the princess after the performance as well.

Frog Shooting Trial Attracts Much Interest

BOURGES.—The definition of fish, frogs and partridges, together with the respective merits of fishing with a gun and hunting with a rod, will provide lively arguments when the case of Monsieur Dominique Dupieux comes to trial.

For weeks the inhabitants of Bourges have been disturbed by the alternating croaks of huge frogs and the loud reports of a shot gun. Following the river bank the police soon discovered that M. Dupieux sat at his window, night cap on head, gun in hand, blasting away and one by one silencing the frogs of the river bank whose croaking kept him awake.

Even as the alert gendarmes stood by, the thundering reports continued between the intermittent and deep throated basso of the frogs. Realizing that both the hunting season was at an end, and that the fishing season was not yet on, the vigilant sentries promptly arrested Monsieur Dupieux and charged him with infraction of the game laws, with disturbing the peace at night, with fishing out of season, with shooting out of season, with killing frogs out of season and with carrying a firearm without a permit.

It can be ascertained that Monsieur Dupieux gathered up the frogs and ate them, he will be charged with the additional crime of obtaining property illegally. But Monsieur Dupieux simply observes he was assisting law and order by killing the noisy frogs, he denies he was hunting, he denies he was fishing as he sat in his bed room window, and he hates the frogs with such fury he could not eat them.

The prosecutor maintains, however, that shooting frogs is no different than shooting partridges at this season, and Monsieur Dupieux asserts that partridges do not croak by the riverbank. The case has attracted much attention throughout the region.

Discs Urged For Teaching

STOCKHOLM.—Education should be taught in the Swedish schools by means of specially prepared phonograph records, asserts Dr. Nils Hanninger, councillor of the board of education. This summer the leading Swedish authors have read from their works for school records to be used in the literature classes, and Dr. Hanninger believes competent readers should be engaged to make special records to show proper pronunciation.

It is also the aim of the Swedish school authorities to make Swedish spelling as phonetic as possible, but the spoken language does not always conform to the more formal written one. These problems Dr. Hanninger will take up at the next congress of the teachers in the Swedish public schools.

DISPOSAL OF PRESIDENT MYSTERY

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 12.—UP—The mystery which surrounded Kipolito Irigoyen, erstwhile dictator of Argentina, during a quarter of a century and more of active political life followed him along the road to political exile today.

He was aboard the cruiser Belgrano, reported lying off La Plata a suburb of Buenos Aires, to-night, but the nature of his exile was yet undetermined. The doubt lent a dramatic anti-climax to the week which has been lurid with the action of revolution.

The Minister of Interior Matias Sanchez Sorondo, told the United Press that Irigoyen, aged and ill, was aboard the Belgrano. He said the disposition of the former chief executive remained undetermined but offered nothing further.

The new revolutionary government headed by Gen. Jose Uriburu has been at a loss how to dispose of Irigoyen without making the old man a martyr. It was thought yesterday they had decided in desperation, more or less to ship him to Montevideo, Uruguay and let things take their course.

It apparently was feared that was too close, however, and that the elderly, erstwhile president, despite old age and illness, might form their direct reorganization of his shattered political forces and seek to regain the power wrested from him almost without resistance.

The most generally accepted solution among the conjecturing thousands of Buenos Aires was that Irigoyen would be transferred to a passing passenger liner and permitted to enter political exile in Europe, where others have preceded him.

The cruiser Belgrano on which Irigoyen and his daughter and his personal physician, Dr. Meabe left La Plata at noon yesterday, was still lying off La Plata, however, with the dejected little party aboard. Unsupported and alone, Irigoyen even in defeat presented an important problem, if a somewhat pitiful figure, as he faded from the political scene he dominated so long.

Enrique Perez, new finance minister, meantime turned his attention toward other problems relating to the economic status of the nation, the chief and most pressing domestic problem facing the revolutionary regime.

BIRTHDAY OF PERSHING TODAY

General John J. Pershing, notorious as the commander-in-chief of the American army during the World War, will celebrate his 70th birthday today, according to Everett Cohen, chairman of the Americanization committee of the Richmond post of the American Legion.

Pershing was born September 13, 1860 near the little village of Laclede, Mo., although the accepted date of his birth and the house in which he was born are still matters of mild dispute among the villagers.

A friend of his boyhood days said "he was born in a section house about 3000 yards from the site of the old depot." The foundation still stands but the people of Laclede and Meadville, a nearby hamlet do not agree on this point.

BRITISH RULE SCORED BY HINDUS

By WEBB MILLER
CALCUTTA.—"Divide and rule." That ancient Roman maxim of imperialism, say the Swarajist leaders of India, is one of the fundamental policies of British rule in India.

Among the charges against the government of India heard most often among Swarajists is the statement that the British do not want India to become a nation in the usual sense of the word; that they do not want the inhabitants of India to feel a sense of nationalism or regard themselves as Indians instead of Hindus, Mohammedans, Sikhs, Brahmans or "untouchables," that the government wants the innumerable divisions of race, religion and caste to continue, and the bitterness which results from such divisions.

Rule of Dominance

Continuance of British rule in India is largely dependent upon the perpetuation of the sharp divisions among the native peoples, according to the oft-repeated statements of Ghandi's supporters. Were it not for the divisions, they say, it would be impossible for a mere handful of British to govern a vast sub-continent and dominate 320,000,000 inhabitants with an army of 210,000 of which only 60,000 are British soldiers and a police force of 137,000 of which only 1,400 are British. Never in history has such a minute minority of the dominating race ruled such an immense expanse of territory inhabited by so many swarming millions.

Once a widespread sense of nationalism is instilled into the peoples of India the leaders believe the beginning of the end of British rule in India is in sight.

That is the reason Ghandi has made instillation of a sense of nationalism one of the principal points of his program. He has asked his followers to make efforts to conciliate peoples of different castes and religions and to break down divisions between them in an attempt to form the beginning of an Indian nation.

Communal Representation

As evidence of the application of the "divide and rule" maxim Ghandi's followers cite the so-called "communal representation" or separate representation of the various principal races and religions in the Indian legislative assembly and provincial legislatures. They claim that division of electorates tends to perpetuate class consciousness and accentuate the divisions of creed and caste. The Simon report recommended continuance of "communal representation" as a protection of minorities.

Another evidence of workings of the maxim which is frequently cited is the practice of policing cities and districts with native police from a different part of the country and using native troops of a different race, religion or caste. For instance, the little dark, wiry native police of Bombay city are brought from the Deccan.

The followers of Ghandi assert that the government of India is opposed to anything designed to destroy the barriers between Indian peoples. The charge was made to the United Press correspondent that in some cases officials of the government had taken action which incited hatred between the Hindus and Mohammedans, but it was impossible to verify such statements.

Men's Club Of Church Sees Play Movies

Members of the Men's club of the First Baptist church were figuratively transported to Oberammergau last night when moving pictures of the Passion Play, presented there recently, were shown in detail by Mrs. Emily Axtell, who has recently returned from Europe.

Mrs. Axtell also made an interesting talk on the play, telling the men of the hard work necessary to present a finished performance.

According to Mrs. Axtell, the valley of Oberammergau, where the play was presented, is so low that during the winter months there are only four hours of daylight. At the time the play was presented however, daylight was in evidence about eight hours.

Oliver Crigler presided over the meeting last night which was attended by about 30 members.

During the evening duets were sung by Mrs. J. Sollors and Mrs. Perry Lasiter accompanied by Mrs. Robert Kinney; a talk on the program of the club during the winter was given by Rev. K. B. Wallace; community singing was led by the president; C. E. Parker, chairman of finance gave a talk on finances; and strangers at the meeting were introduced.

Announcement of the new committee was made as follows: Bert Busso, membership committee; C. W. Cook, publicity; Lester Geyer, religious director; Ernest Lowell, Grover Binkley and Robert Kinney, reception committee; and O. E. Estes, C. E. Parker and Clyde Phillips, athletic committee.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 10 and will be in the form of Ladies Night, the members and their wives journeying to Mills College where they will hear an astronomical talk by Prof. Earl Lindsay. They will take a lunch and enjoy a picnic.

Japan Tobacco Brokers Lose

TOKYO.—UP—In accordance with the government's rationalization plan more than 480 Japanese tobacco brokers throughout the empire will lose their jobs within one year, according to the decision made at the cabinet council.

The government monopoly bureau expects to make an annual profit of more than Yen 2,000,000 by its direct selling method which is effective from July 1, 1931. The bureau at present pays the tobacco brokers Yen 5,000,000 commission annually for their distribution service.

1857 Mexican Text Found

MEXICO CITY.—UP—The original official manuscript text of the Mexican constitution of 1857, discovered in Buenos Aires by a group of Mexican residents there, has just been returned to the national archives here. The whereabouts of the valuable document had been a mystery for several years, since its disappearance from Mexico City.

Jorge Colomic, commercial attaché of the Mexican legation at Buenos Aires, and some Mexican business men residents in the Argentine capital purchased the copy of the constitution for $1,000. It was brought back to Mexico City and delivered to Foreign Secretary Estrada by Ismael Martinez Lazo, a banker and member of the group which made the purchase. The Foreign secretary delivered it personally to the president.

An expert has reported to the president that the document is genuine. It bears the signatures of Don Valentin Gomez Farias and Don Leon Guzman, president and vice-president respectively of the Mexican congress at the time the constitution was adopted.

Man Sleeps After Four Story Fall

DETROIT.—The philosophic calm which governs the life of George Koch can't be shaken by a four-story fall, even if he has to wait two days to be rescued.

George recently was discovered reclining on the roof of a building, which stands next to one four stories taller.

"I had been drinking," he explained. "I went to see a friend in the building next door and walked off the roof. When I came to, I was on the roof of the building next door four stories down. I hollered all day trying to attract attention but I guess everyone that heard me thought I was crazy. They just walked away."

"I couldn't get down so I went to sleep." He was still sleeping the next morning when two men in the next building saw him curled up on the roof and called the police. George got down by means of a ladder and went home, unhurt and whittling.

TWO WOUNDED IN HOLD-UP ATTEMPT

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 12.—UP—Patrolman George W. Perry was seriously wounded, and a pedestrian was shot in the leg today when a holdup man, armed with an automatic rifle, attempted to rob J. W. McGinnis, cigar store proprietor, of $7000 on a downtown street.

Perry was acting as guard for McGinnis, who was taking the money to a bank, a dark man approached them, leveled the rifle and ordered them to raise their hands. Perry reached for his gun and the robber shot him through the right side.

He dropped to the street and the robber fired twice at McGinnis who was running with the money bag, and missed.

Louis Hawkins, realtor, was hit in the leg by one of the bullets while standing a block away watching the fray.

Joe Smith, private detective, met the man and ordered him to stop. He escaped in a car. Smith commandeered an automobile and gave chase for several blocks until the robbers stopped and ran up a high bank. There he entrenched himself and dared Smith to fight it out with him. READY CASH in the Bank

Is the Kind of Money that Makes Money

Opportunities have a way of presenting themselves to those who are prepared. It is the sum of ready money at the right time that builds a home, starts a business, buys a partnership, secures bargains in real estate and sound investments or in one way or another lays the foundation of a fortune and assures independence.

Getting ahead is largely a matter of getting started saving. Many persons promise themselves to start saving in the future. But the men and women who win are the ones who act. The important thing is to begin saving today.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

WHO DO NOT FLY ALONE

NOT the least interesting and appealing feature, from the feminine viewpoint, in the record-breaking Paris-to-New-York flight of Coste and Bellonte, is the joy of the flyers' young, attractive, devoted wives, whose valiant faith this time has been crowned with triumph instead of tragedy.

They are so young and charming. They have been married so little time to the men they love. They were so brave—and so anxious. How can any sympathetic woman, who herself has known young love, think of them without a warm glow of thankfulness, a sense of relief almost as deep and happy as their own?

For no flyer with a woman who loves him—especially if she stands in that closest of all relationships, happy marriage—flies alone on his great races with death.

Coste, Doris Bellonte, appeared to be living in Paris their sleepless hours of vigil, while the Question Mark was hovering across the North Atlantic and down the fog-bound Western shore. Actually, in spirit, those young wives traveled every dark, wind-buffed mile of the four thousand flown by the men they loved. Their mental flight to us seems harder than the physical, for at least Coste and Bellonte had things to do and knew something of what they faced. Their wives could do nothing but wait—and strain their ears for the wireless trickle—and die in imagination a thousand anguished deaths.

Y ES, of course, the women kept up public courage and cheerfulness. They have the sporting spirit of modern young womanhood. But Mary Coste never closed her big, beautiful blue eyes until she heard that the Question Mark—unlike its gallant Gallic predecessor, the White Bird—had not ended the transatlantic sloop in mournful mystery—that the Question Mark indeed punctuated the history of flight with a glorious exclamation point!

Both Mme. Coste and curly-haired Doris Bellonte greeted good news with the storm of tears which indicated nervous tension suddenly relaxed, after being strung almost to the breaking point. They "had absolute confidence"—so they valiantly told the world. What their agony of apprehension told their own hearts is known to every woman who loves a man and sees him rush to meet supreme peril. "When I offered my husband my life, I knew I should pass it trembling for him," pathetically confessed Mme. Bellonte.

These two young women both first encountered their future husbands on flying fields, and their romances flowered swiftly. During their married life, both have flown many times. One of the fine things about Coste and Bellonte, as about Lindbergh, is the way in which they take their wives into the work that is their passion, instead of keeping it a masculine mystery. If anything can make easier the ordeal of the woman who stays behind when her husband flies across oceans, it is her intimate knowledge of his skill and her personal familiarity with his machine.

"When I fly often with Lindbergh in our own little plane, then I am not afraid," says Mary Coste, simply. And Doris Bellonte admits, "I learned to like flying traveling back and forth with Maurice on the Paris-London air-liner he piloted. That gave me confidence."

B OTH the flying husbands, almost as soon as they arrived in New York, telephoned affectionate messages to their wives. Both the wives will come to the United States to greet their conquering heroes. May the reunion be swift and joyous, and may it be followed by many another! The progress of aviation is, of course, vastly important—but so is the happiness of married lovers. A romantic woman winces to think that it may ever crash down on broken wings.

CLIPPER WINGS

I search and seek for lucid, singing words. For fluid phrases—but I fail each time. My muse sings not the high clear notes of birds. But, stumbling, falters through a labored rhyme.

The words I seek well up within my breast. I know they are of sheerest beauty span. But they stay hid, they never ride the crest. I strain and strive—but leave the song unsung.

And I, who'd reach the stars, must anguish stand. And blindly grope in space beyond my pen. My flights of fancy hampered—held in hand; My thoughts far too tumultuous for my pen.

Exhaustion but intensifies the pain.

Whether food prices in general go up or down, there is one food product that is always inexpensive. And that, moreover, is the least of its charms, for it is flavorful, delicious, in season at all times of year, and good either hot or cold. And among its many virtues is the fact that it can be put away on the shelf at any time to be served when wanted. It hasn't already gone rancid, as you surely would if I mentioned that the food in question is universally recommended by dietitians.

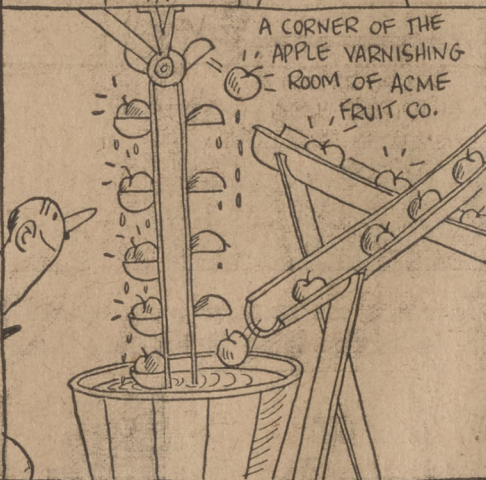

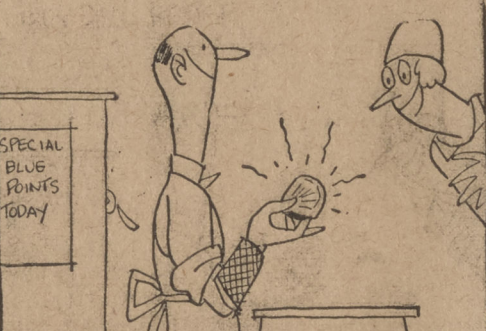

Unlike many foods which have to be precisely forced on people with the admonition that they are good for them, salmon is well liked by most people. Merely chilled and served with cucumber salad, canned salmon makes a delightful main dish or a summer luncheon or dinner. But when you want a more elaborate and delicately tempting summer salad, try this:

KAREN HOLLES

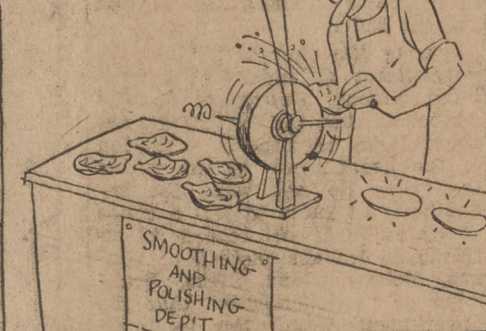

Salmon Mousse
1 pint boiling water
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 can salmon
1 cup celery, diced
3 pimientos, cut in strips
1 green pepper, shredded fine
4 hard-boiled eggs, sliced
Few sprigs of mint
Dissolve the gelatin in the boiling water and add vinegar, salt and sugar. While the gelatin is cooling, flake the salmon and prepare the eggs, pepper and pimientos. Chop the mint leaves fine and sprinkle them over the salmon. Mix with celery, pepper, pimientos, four or five of the gelatin in a mold, and when it has begun to thicken arrange slices of hard-boiled eggs in it. When this has set add the salmon mixture. Pour in the remaining gelatin, and chill. Allow at least two hours refrigeration before serving. Unmold on salad-leaf lettuce, garnish with mayonnaise and serve very cold.

and sometimes straight down the front, with fur of the most expensive variety used for trimming. It has a decided bloused line at the back almost invariably.

But the choicest touch of all is the blouse that goes with the suit.

Blouses in Particular

THIS blouse is bright in color or soft in tone, just as you wish.

You can see that it gives you a chance to wear color if you dislike, as so many women do, to wear an all dark dress which is not as kind as the lighter touch.

School nurse says
all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

GAS PRICE IS INCREASED 1 CENT

The statement made by the company was as follows: "Statements have been made by independent refiners to government officials, to the public and to this company that present prices for gasoline and prevailing prices for crude oil do not permit refiners in California to operate at a profit and that there must be either a decrease in the cost of the raw material, or an increase in the price of the refined product, or a decrease in labor costs. This last suggestion, even though it might be partially effective should not be considered in view of existing general conditions."

Supported by Facts
"The statements referred to are believed to be supported by the facts. The condition is the result of an incomplete program which was begun last spring. In March, 1930, as a result of the successful conclusion of the conservation program by California producers, the price offered by this company for the average grade of refinable crude oil was advanced 20 to 25 cents per barrel. It was contemplated that this should be followed by a corresponding increase in the company's price for refined products. Before this advance could be made effective unsettled marketing conditions for refined products developed and culminated in the recent disastrous price war. All refiners have, therefore, found themselves in the predicament pointed out by the independent refiners. Conditions today do not permit the advance in the price of refined products contemplated at the time of the advance in the price of crude oil referred to."

"It is apparent that the burden of maintaining the conservation of our crude oil resources cannot be thrown wholly on the producer. California producers, who today are retooling their production to prevent waste, are receiving some compensation for their reduced output in the shape of a higher price. If relief comes to the refiners entirely at the expense of the producer, the present conservation of California oils would be placed in jeopardy. If relief is not afforded to refiners from their present difficulty, some who control shut-in production will undoubtedly discontinue their purchases of crude oil and open up their own production, thus destroying the conservation program; for the conservation program requires for its successful operation that its burdens be shared by all operators in any one field, and that a market be provided for such oil as is produced."

Public Interested
"The public, as well as the industry, is interested in the conservation of our petroleum resources. The burden of conservation should not be thrown

Woman Flier Plans Long Hop

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—UP—Ruth Alexander, San Diego aviator, announced tonight that she will start early next Monday on a one-stop flight from Agua Caliente, Mexico, to New York City. Plans call for a refueling at Wichita, Kan. After a brief stop, Miss Alexander plans to go on to New York.

Miss Alexander recently made a non-stop flight from Vancouver, B. C. to Agua Caliente.

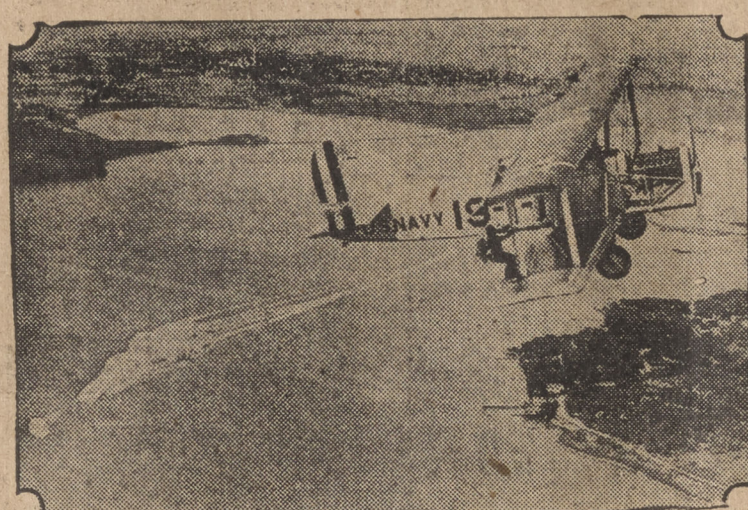

wholly on the public nor on the refiner nor on the producer. The theory of conservation is that our natural resources shall be utilized only to the extent of a reasonable demand. The result will be a stabilized value and price over a long period of years, rather than low prices during the periods of excessive production, with high prices when the time of shortage arrives. "As President Coolidge pointed out in his letter to the federal oil conservation board on December 19, 1924: "Overproduction in itself encourages cheapness, which in turn leads to wastefulness and disregard of essential values."

Program To End Strife In China Told

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—UP—A program he believes would settle the present strife in China and restore a satisfactory commercial relationship between that country and the United States was outlined to a subcommittee of the senate foreign relations committee today by Ernest B. Price, for 13 years American consul in China.

Price said his plan in brief was to have the leading world powers sponsor a program of financing in China; unite the national government and the war lords in a peace time agreement, and outline a rehabilitation program to be financed under supervision. Senators Key Pittman, Henrik Shipstead and Claude A. Swanson said Price's idea appeared to be "the most practical suggestion yet offered."

Four other witnesses were heard at today's session, one of several held here in an effort to learn the reasons behind the present unsettled trade relations between the United States and China.

STORM WARNINGS SENT TO COAST

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—UP—The tropical hurricane born off the coast of Africa which devastated Santo Domingo ten days ago approached the North Carolina coast tonight after crawling slowly across hundreds of miles of ocean.

With revived force but with a small center the hurricane headed north-northeastward from Cape Lookout at 2 p. m. Hurricane warnings were hurriedly sent out for the south Atlantic coast where the Flying Pan Shoals and other hazards have taken toll of ships and men for many years.

Tonight storm warnings were extended from the Virginia Capes to Sandy Hook, N. Y.

Chief Forecaster Mitchell said the storm appeared to be decreasing in its intensity.

The hurricane at eight p. m. was near Cape Hatteras and apparently had changed its course from north-northeast to northeast and was moving about 15 miles per hour, the weather bureau reported at 10 p. m.

Girl Scout Troops Here Make Progress

With the visit of Miss Helen Kendall of Berkeley, Girl Scout leader who recently made a tour of inspection of the eight groups that have been organized here within the last year, a new stimulus has been added to the local organization as a great increase in membership is anticipated with the coming of new leaders.

Miss Thelma Mellick of New York City is soon to make a Richmond visit and will give a leaders' training course commencing the evening of September 19 in Memorial hall.

Owing to the former lack of trained leaders, work in the local Girl Scout field has been retarded, according to Miss Viola Treanor, active in Girl Scout work here. There are 100 already in attendance, however, Miss Treanor reports.

A number of women prominent in P. T. A. work have signified their intention of aiding in the Girl Scout activities and have shown interest in the leader's training course soon to be adopted. Miss Anna Mikesell, head of the Girl Scout work in junior high schools, and Mrs. L. W. Wuesthoff, active social worker, are two women who have pledged their time to aid in the local Girl Scout field.

Funeral services will be held Monday from the Matthews parlors in Alameda.

4 BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE

KREMLIN, Okla., Sept. 12.—UP—A conflagration, which threatened to destroy the whole town of Kremlin after 15 tank cars of gasoline of a Rock Island freight train had been exposed, was brought under control late today.

Four men, all itinerant stealing rides, were burned to death. L. H. Lockhart, 52, Lexington Ky., died from burns in an Enid hospital. The bodies of three unidentified men were recovered from the wreckage.

The blaze started when several cars of the train were derailed, swept through the train, exploded the tank cars. Three houses and a carpenter's shop, ignited by sheets of flames from the gasoline, were destroyed.

The fire department from Enid was called. All available men in this little town of 150 residents fought to save their homes.

Members of the train's crew escaped injury. The engine was not derailed.

Fire first broke out, crewmen said, when part of the train left the track. An investigation was started by Rock Island officials.

The train, No. 98, was en route from Fort Worth, Tex., to Chicago.
